Bay raises millage to accommodate '99 school budget

BY MARY G. SEILEY

Bay St. Louis city officials authorized a 63-mill tax levy for fiscal 1999, including an eight-mill hike in collections to support the Bay-Waveland school district.

Mayor Eddie Favre and City Council members emphasized that the levy designated for city parks and recreation, fire protection, and the city-county library, a total of five mills, remains at the same level it's been since 1992.

The boost in school millage essentially was mandated, city officials said, to meet the fiscal requirements of the school district. That includes money to pay bond issue costs and operations.

The mayor said that protests in the tax reappraisal system had led to "adjustments" so widespread that the total assessed value dropped by some $2 million—even with the increases that new construction have put on the tax books.

As it stands, officials estimate the value of a citywide mill at $52,000, said Favre, rather than the $55,000 officials had estimated earlier. The value of a school mill is $90,000, he said. The school levy covers Bay St. Louis and most of Waveland, as well as some unincorporated areas of the county.

Council members had little comment on the assessment and levy figures recommended by the mayor and staff, except Tad Black. He complained that school district officials should have gone to Tuesday's meeting to justify the increase in taxation.

Diesel oil spill

Bay St. Louis fire and police departments responded with assistance from the Public Works Department to a diesel oil spill at the intersection of Hwy. 90 and Main Street Tuesday. Reports of motorists hitting the fuel slick came into the fire department at approximately 1 p.m. Fire Chief Bobby Gavagnie estimated the spill to be less than 50 gallons, and the city, following instructions from Department of Environment Quality, spread approximately 12 yards of sand along the spill. Gavagnie said the joint response was efficient and effective in containing what might have been a volatile accident. (Echo staff photo by B.R. Hawkins)

Bikeway in jeopardy; walkway okayed

BY ED LEPOMA

Hancock County plans to go forward with its portion of a long-awaited pedestrian walkway along the beach, while the bikeway through Bay St. Louis continues to be bogged down.

Officials say a major segment of the bikeway may be totally de-railed because CSX rail officials won't grant required permits for the project. It's the same argument over closing rail crossings that delayed portions of the Bay St. Louis drainage program from going forward quicker.

"They're (CSX) holding this grant hostage," charged Buz Olsen, the Bay's Community Development Director.

At Monday's recess meeting of the Board of Supervisors, District 3 Supervisors Lisa Cowand got 4-1 approval of her motion to proceed following a report on the status of the project by Jeff Loftus, the county's consultant with the Gulf Regional Planning Commission. Loftus said construction of the bikeway path through Bay st.

Louis remains stymied because the city needs to decide what rail crossings to close and get the permission of CSX Railroad to close them.

Cowand serves as chairman of the committee formed to select projects that are being financed through the national Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act (ISTEA).

and she and Loftus said they feared a $951,000 grant made to the Gulf Regional Planning Commission might be lost unless some progress on the Bikeway/Pedestrian Walkway path is not shown by October 31.

She said there is ample park-

Marina taking shape

Rules and regs pondered

BY ED LEPOMA

With the new county marina taking shape off Pleasure Street and Lakeshore Road, supervisors have asked the man in charge to draw up some proposed rules and regulations.

Oliver Sahuque, who officially becomes Hancock County's harbor master Oct. 1, but who's already on duty, reported to supervisors this week that the demand has already exceeded slips that will be made available in the first phase of construction.

Sahuque said a total 1,120 feet of docking space will be available, and would accommodate about 22 commercial boats. A total of 580 feet of docking will be available on the east side, and another 540 on the west side, with a boat launch in the front of the marina.

Mayor breaks tie

Waveland adopts budget

BY BETSY GAGNET

Waveland Mayor John Mason cast the deciding vote to adopt the City of Waveland's 1998-99 budget during Monday night's Board of Aldermen recess meeting.

Mason broke the 2-2 tie created when Aldermen Al Kingston, Jr. and Jay Fleuriot voted against the budget. Aldermen Tommy Longo and Louie Smolensky voted to adopt the budget.

Kingston said because of excessive expenditures the city has in connection with the animal control department, he could not support the budget. Fleuriot offered no explanation for his vote.

The board also approved the amended budget for 1997-98 and the city's millage rate for 1998-99. The millage rate is unchanged from last year at 22.625 mills.

The expense allocation in the city's 1998-99 budget for the animal control department is $115,077. Waveland receives annual animal shelter fees in the total amount of $76,900, with $45,900 of that coming from Hancock County and $18,000 from Bay St. Louis. The remainder of the fees, approximately $13,000, is generated by the shelter itself.

Coastal cleanup Saturday

A number of clubs, school groups, businesses, industry and individuals have already pre-registered for the Saturday, Sept. 19, Coastal Cleanup, reports Ellis C. Cuevas, Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Beautification chairman.

The cleanup in Hancock County is in conjunction with the Mississippi Marine Debris Task Force.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee will focus on the beachfront from Bayou Caddy to the mouth of the Jourdan River, while Earth Shores Foundation, Inc., will address the rivers, bayous and canals of the area. Susan Busby of Earthshores Foundation also reports several boating groups and boaters have pre-registered.

This will mark the 10th year for the coastal cleanup and it is organized to educate the public on ridding the Mississippi Gulf Coast of marine debris.

A garden of blessings

The Rev. Brian Sage blesses the garden spots of the Katy Garden Wednesday at Coast Episcopal Lower School in Bay St. Louis. The garden was created in memory of Katy Carron, a former Coast Episcopal student, who died of a brain tumor at six-years-old. Katy's parents, Susan and Mike Carron, helped develop the "roots and shoots" garden where students (the shoots) grow vegetables, flowers and herbs with help from community volunteers (the roots). The project, designed by local architect Allison Anderson, began last spring as each grade planted its own garden spot. Since then, a gazebo, fence and the Pre-school's "Piglet Patch" have been added, and plantings will continue from season to season. (Echo staff photo by Betsy Gagnet)

Sheriff taking steps to improve jail conditions

BY ED LEPOMA

Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said he is taking interim steps to make the Hancock County jail safer for all prisoners.

Peterson was reacting to a recent tour of the jail made by Ron Welch, a Jackson attorney whom supervisors are paying $3,000 to make suggestions on improvements needed at the downtown jail in order to ensure that it is certified to temporarily house state prisoners.

Welch specializes in prisoners' rights, and in 1981, he successfully filed a lawsuit against Mississippi to ensure the constitutional rights of all felony-convicted prisoners are not violated. That suit resulted in a ruling that directs state inmates must be moved out of uncertified jails into the penitentiary system within 30 days if the holding facility is deemed unsound or not up to state standards.

Peterson said Welch made "a very thorough" investigation of jail security and living conditions after about a nine-hour tour.

"He made some good points," and we are beginning to take some interim safety measures," said Peterson. The sheriff said cardboard footlockers currently used by some prisoners would be replaced with "less flammable" plastic storage lockers, and some windows in the jail could be enlarged to offer correctional officers a better view of what's going on in individual cells.

The sheriff said leaks in the roof of the jail are also being patched.

Peterson said the biggest concern raised by Welch had to do with the fact the prison population is now at capacity, housing 130 inmates, and "about 25 to 30 were lying on the floor."

"That's a no-no," said Peterson.

The Sheriff said Welch was expected to give an interim report to the Board of Supervisors, but he did not think Welch would move to null out state prisoners and federal prisoners being detained for the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service in six months if concerns aren't addressed.

"As long as we're making efforts to improve," I don't think it will be a problem," said Peterson. "When we built this jail in 1987, we thought it was going to last us several years, but we've witnessed tremendous growth. We will do everything we need to do, but the bottom line comes down to the money it will take."

Peterson said it would be a tremendous financial blow to the county if state and federal prisoners could no longer be temporarily housed in the county jail. He estimates revenue from housing state prisoners last year was around $178,000, and federal inmates brought in between $500,000 and $600,000. Those funds were plowed back into the sheriff's operating budget.

One possibility being discussed to get prisoners off the floor and to prevent future overcrowding might be to house some state prisoners in trailers at the county farm, Peterson said.

"These would be minimum-security prisoners," said Peterson. He said the farm environment would also be good for state prisoners, because it would keep them working and active.

County millage increase to fund maintenance, not construction

BY ED LEPOMA

If you live in the county school district, your taxes are going up next year, but two supervisors said don't blame them, blame the school board.

Supervisors adopted the millage Monday that is needed to finance county government, including the school district, and Comptroller Patty Greer noted that a hike of 1.44 mills would be needed to finance county school operations next year.

Greer said the millage hike was not needed to finance the ambitious $20 million construction program voters approved in 1997 to improve county schools, but was going mainly towards the rising costs of maintaining the schools.

Last year, the School District requested 0.3197 mills to provide $4,395,000 for maintenance, but this year that estimated maintenance figure jumped to $4,724,000, and would require millage of 0.3460 to finance.

The 1.44-millage increase would amount to about $8.64 for taxpayers with $60,000 homes and a homestead exemption, according to chief county appraiser Lee Bennett.

Before the vote on the millage levy, Board of Supervisors President Philip Moran let it be known that he wasn't pleased that supervisors are mandated by state law to vote on any millage increase.

"We can't keep them from raising taxes, but we have to vote for it. If I can't control it, I don't want to vote on it," said Moran. Moran and District 4 Supervisor Steve Seymour voted against the millage increase, but Supervisors Jeep Ladner, Rocky Pullman and Lisa Coward voted for the hike.

Earlier, Greer pointed out that although the Sheriff's Department went over budget by about six percent or $190,000, the deficit was made up by grants and other revenue received before year's end by the Sheriff's Department and because overall spending by other county departments was two percent under budget.

Moran commended the county departments that spent less than the funds allocated to them, and noted that county government required no millage increase in order to provide services next year.

Taylor signs resolution to start impeachment process

U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor signed on as a co-sponsor to House Resolution 304 which directs the House Judiciary Committee to undertake an inquiry into whether grounds exist to impeach President Bill Clinton.

The resolution, introduced by Rep. Bob Barr (R-GA) says that considerable evidence has been developed from a broad array of credible sources that President Clinton "has engaged in a systematic effort to obstruct, undermine and compromise the legitimate and proper functions and processes of the executive branch."

House Resolution 304 says that upon completion of the investigation by the Judiciary Committee, the Committee should report to the House its recommendations with respect to impeachment of the president.

For several weeks Rep. Taylor has said that if President Clinton lied under sworn oath, he would support impeachment. Last week Taylor also said that all of the evidence in Independent Counsel Kenneth Starr's report should immediately be available to Congress and the American public.

Oyster season to open

BY ED LEPOMA

The Department of Marine Resources has scheduled an Oct. 5 opening for the oyster season.

Last year, 353,000 sacks were harvested, but DMR officials predicted this year the catch may be less. That's because natural predators might reduce the harvest.

DMR officials said there have been some problems with oyster drills—mollusks that kill oysters by drilling into their shells. Hooked mussels are also a problem, crowding out oysters on certain reefs. Dry weather, which contributes to high salinities over oyster reefs, can make the predator problem worse.

Last year, a series of reef closings during the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays hurt oystermen during their most profitable times of the year, and some in the public remain wary of eating oysters.

There is a 30-sack limit for dredgers and tongs, according to the DMR.

"CUEVAS' QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Saturday is the big cleanup day for Hancock County's beaches, rivers, canals and bayous.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and Earth Shores Foundation, Inc., are coordinating the Hancock cleanup.

Over 200 pre-registrations have already been received for the cleanup. For beach cleanup, call the Chamber at 467-9048, while for the rivers, canals and bayous, call Earth Shores Foundation at 463-0343.

Darlene Underwood and Betsy Ashman are the cleanup day co-chairmen for the beach area. Sue Busby is handling the rivers, canals and bayous registrations.

Several groups, organizations, businesses, industries, school groups and individuals have pre-registered for the big cleanup day, yet more help is needed.

A registration table will be set up 7:30 a.m. to 9 a.m. in Bay St. Louis at Beach Blvd. and Ulman Avenue; in Waveland at the Garfield Ladner Fishing pier; and in the Clermont Harbor-Lakeshore areas at Buccaneer State Park. Registration will also be for the rivers, bayous and canals at 226 Skyline, Garden Island Subdivision off Washington and Chapman roads.

Hancock County was the first county along the Coast to conduct a beach cleanup in 1986 co-sponsored by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce and Sand Beach Advisory Committee.

We need to continue to push for a litter free community, and that will take the help of each and everyone of you.

I hope to see you Saturday.

By the way, at Buccaneer State Park, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., or until they are all gone, hot dogs will be available, courtesy of Congressman Gene Taylor with Chris Lagarde as chef. The chamber's beautification committee will supply the buns and soft drinks.

Mother Nature got into the local high school football action Friday night with one game being rescheduled Saturday and then again rescheduled for Monday night.

Frances' deluge apparently was like the Tigers of Bay High as they eeked a 14-12 victory over Vancleaves' Bulldogs in a water-logged game.

(By the way, we were not advised that the game between the Tigers and Bay High was changed to a home game. Apparently wires were crossed someplace along the way.)

Pass Christian's Pirates played a good first half Friday night only trailing 14-7 until St. John exploded for 40 point in the second half coming away with a 54-13 victory.

St. Stanislaus and Long Beach were washed out until Monday night, and the Bearcats cooled the Rocks by a 31-12 score.

Hancock High had a good night to have an open date.

It was a sweet victory for the Tigers, and I know head coach David Baughman and all of Bay High has been smiling all week.

This Friday night, the Tigers will be in a conference game against Pearl River. Bay High needs to be ever sharp to stay in that winning column.

Rock Gaudin's Hancock High will play host to the Long Beach Bearcats in Hawks Stadium Friday.

The Hawks are 2-0 for the season and want to maintain that unblemished record.

St. Stanislaus will visit Vancleave Friday night. The Bulldogs will probably be remembering this past week's loss to Bay High in Bay St. Louis and should be fired up when they return to the Bay. Stanislaus needs to play 100 percent in all phases of the game if they expect to even their season at 2-2. This game will be a good test of the Rocks.

Pass Christian will visit Greene County Friday night and try to get back in the winning form.

One of the big problems for the Pirates is that they do not have any bench depth in players. Most players go both offense and defense, and they wear down in the second half.

I am hoping that the Hawks, Tigers, Rock-A-Chaws and Pirates will all be in the winning column on Friday night.

Do Not forget the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Business After Hours 5 to 7 p.m. this evening at Universal Storage, Inc., 5402 Gex Drive, Diamondhead.

Universal Storage is owned by Charles Johnson, and the new facility is located in Diamondhead directly behind the Burger King.

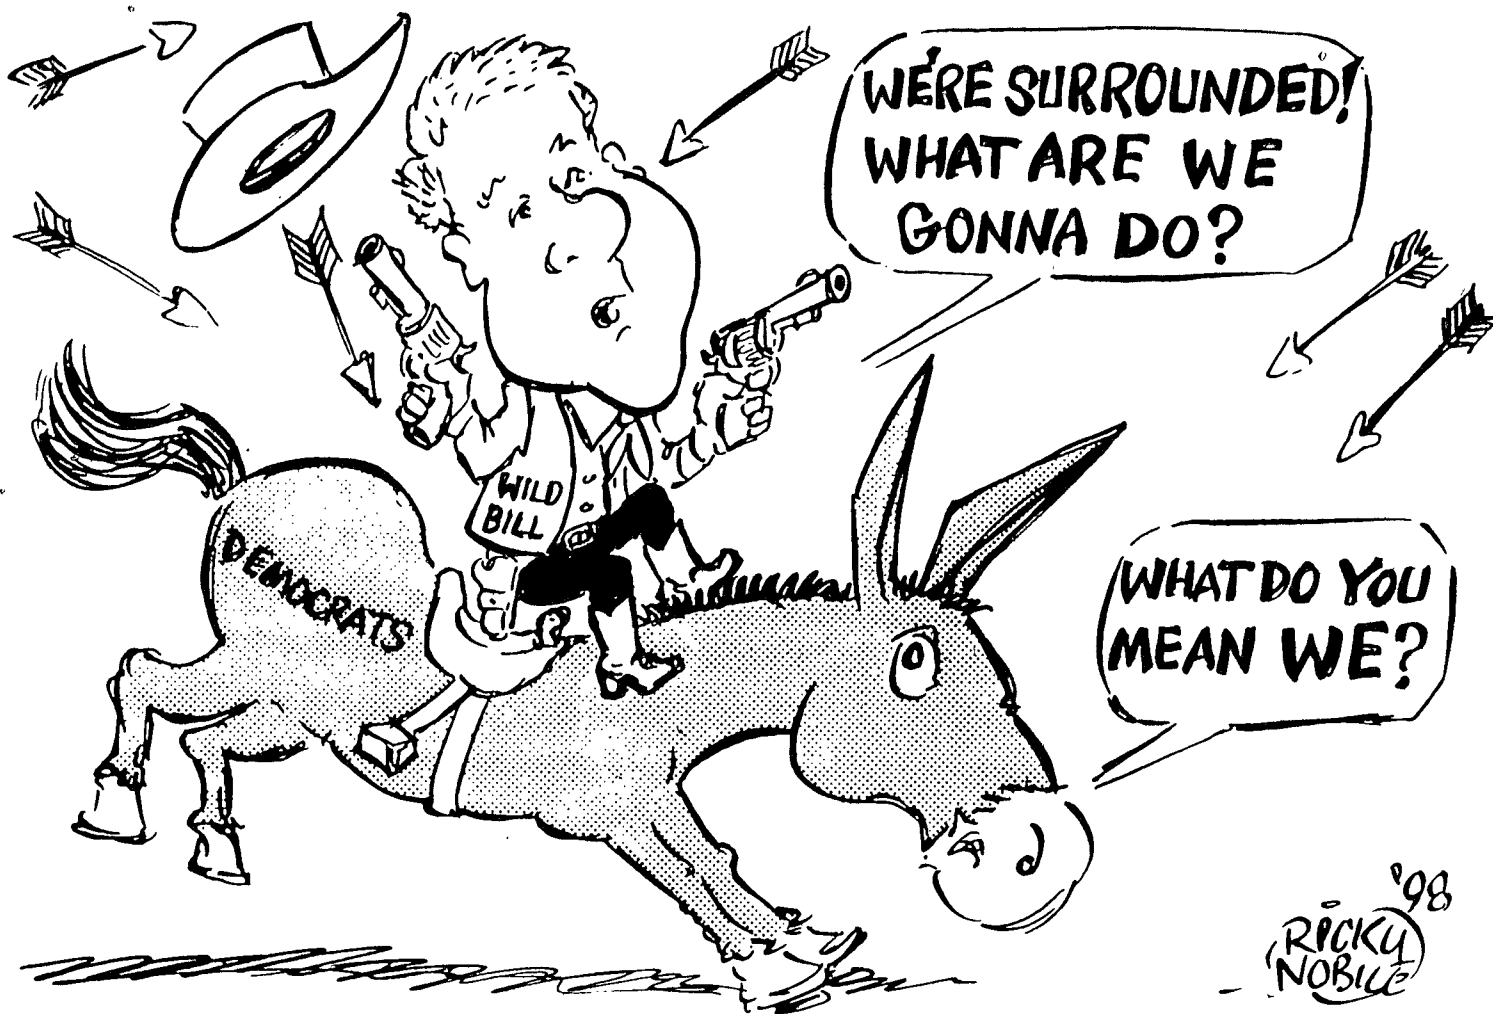

There will be a ribbon cutting at 4:30 p.m. Admission is two business cards, and the event is open to chamber members and guests.

I am told there will be some good "eats."

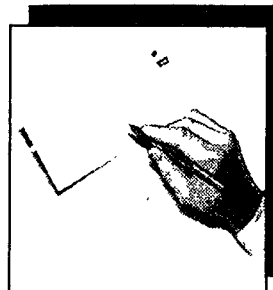

The Kiwanis Club of Hancock County is sponsoring a Pancake Breakfast at the Our Lady of the Gulf Community Center, 200 S. Beach, Bay St. Louis on Sunday from 7 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

As many of you know, the Kiwanis Club has many community activities throughout the year, and this fund raiser is to be used for these efforts. A donation of $3 is requested for the Pancake Breakfast.

Sounds like a good deal to me. I hope to see you there.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Kiln resident opposes Harrison, N.O. use of Hancock landfill

Dear Editor:

The Hancock County Regional Solid Waste Board's meeting Aug. 19 was revealing. Had the proposed Flat Top site for a landfill not been a few miles from my Jourdan River Shores home, I might have been amused by the favorable reaction from members of the Harrison County Solid Waste and Wastewater District to the idea of a Hancock County "joint venture" dump.

Gulfport Mayor Bob Short said Hancock County was "the ideal place to go," but more succinctly: "I'd like to see the dump out of Harrison County."

Where are the choices of those elected to represent the best interests of Hancock County? It seems they are planning to drop the political hot potato of the landfill issue by burying it, along with hundreds of thousands of tons of festering garbage in the Stennis buffer zone.

The buffer zone may be uninhabited, but there are plenty of us living close by its boundaries. The Flat Top site's election is 40 to 50 feet. From Stall Branch, which flows through the landfill site, creeks flow into the Jourdan River.

Because the dump will be as close as 250 feet to Stall Branch, the toxic stew that leaks from this landfill is likely to find its way into ground and surface waters of much of Hancock County (including the Bay of St. Louis, which is already suffering the effects of pollution). And this dump is not a small operation — the would-be operator says he needs more than 1,000 tons a day to make his desired profit.

I would urge residents to protest turning Hancock County into a dumping ground for the entire Gulf Coast, from New Orleans to Mobile.

Tell the Board of Supervisors and Solid Waste Authority, chaired by Supervisor Rock Pullman, that we value our environment and quality of life over the profit motive of a few.

Furthermore, let Harrison County and New Orleans locate their own landfill in Harrison County and Louisiana, respectively.

Sincerely,
Pam Jamison

Waveland resident says President should be forgiven

Dear Editor:

I'm a loyal American, having sent my husband, sons, kin folks to different wars to fight for America, but I would never have believed that some evil people in this country would try to throw a good President out of office because of supposedly having sex with a loose woman. You, Monica Lewinsky, apologize to our President and his family and Americans. You caused this ugly problem.

What goes around comes around, and President Clinton, you can come to our Methodist Church where people have compassion, kind hearts and are forgiving as God has taught us.

Chamber executive director praises Expo participants

Dear Ellis:

On behalf of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Member Services Committee, I want to thank you and The Sea Coast Echo staff for helping to make our first annual Business and Industry Expo such a huge success.

With your helping hand and extensive coverage of the Expo from start to finish, we were able to bring a first-rate event to our community and leave the door open for a much anticipated second annual Hancock County Business and Industry Expo. This was a true community effort to which our entire county can be proud.

Thank you to our Chamber members who participated in the trade show, in particular Hancock Bank for providing the grand prize drawing of a trip and cash giveaway, and the Holiday Inn-Waveland for accommodating us.

Thanks also for participating to Quality Home Health and Hospice of the Gulf Coast, Quest Rehab/Woodland Village/Hotel Reed, Education Committee, Hancock County Tourism Development Bureau, Whitney National Bank, Casino Magic, Prudential Bailey Real Estate;

Coldwell Banker Coast Delta Realty, Hancock Medical Center, Munro Petroleum & Terminal Corporation, Mississippi Power Company, Edmond Fahy Funeral Home, Coast Electric Power Association, Kitchen-N-Bath by Park Supply, Southern Graphics, The Echo, Pearl River Community College;

Latter and Blum Inc. Realtors, Monti Electric Supply Inc., St. Stanislaus College Prep, Union Planters Bank, The Blue Dish, Edward D. Jones/Craig Foster, Forstall Floor Covering, Alcan Cable Co., Village Condos at Henderson Point;

Mississippi Enterprise for Technology, L&M Distributors Inc., Advanced Business Systems, Corporate Cheer, Analysis and Technology, Inc., Cellular South, Newcomers Guide Mississippi, USM Small Business Development Center, Design Build Coast Drafting Services Inc./Gulf Coast Construction Inc., and NASA.

Again, thank you for your help, and thanks to all those who attended and participated in the Expo. Being our first Expo, this was a learning experience for all of us. We invite you to join us for an even bigger and better second annual Expo in 1999.

Sincerely,
Amy Gregory,

Lakeshore Road resident feels deputy sheriffs need raise

Dear Editor:

Have you ever called the Board of Supervisors and complained about a problem and nothing happened or you just did not get a call back at all?

Could you imagine calling 911 and expecting help for a loved one or protection for someone willing to hurt you at no matter the cost and there was no one to come to your aid, because the budget did not allow the extra officer?

The Board of Supervisors accepted the responsibilities when GE Plastic and Wellman moved in and took great pride in getting them here. Where did all the excess revenue go that was promised? We have heard a lot of what the Hancock County Board of Supervisors can do, and we are still waiting.

It is very easy to make cuts and not pass increased budgets prior to an election year, but at whose expense? The taxpayer should be the main concern in the protection of life and property. When someone has to wait on help, or there is no officer available, the person waiting is a voter, so you probably lost that vote.

Wake up citizens of Hancock County before it is too late. Do not allow our law enforcement or ourselves to be cheated of what we deserve. When crime increase is not a concern of our Board of Supervisors, maybe it is time to find us a board who does care.

Remember the saying, "You get what you pay for?" Well, remember that saying next time you see a law enforcement officer dealing with your problem on what we are willing to pay them.

It is a shame when part-time supervisors make $33,000 a year and a full-time deputy sheriff makes only $15,000 a year.

Sincerely,
Janice Mixon

Port & Harbor fails to sell supervisors on salary increases

BY ED LEPOMA

A delegation of Port and Harbor officials failed to convince Hancock County supervisors Monday to approve raises for that agency's workforce.

Supervisors went into executive session a little over an hour with Commission Chairman Dave McDonald, Commissioners Louis Brown, Commissioner Lou Hall, and Executive Director Hal Walters. The three Commissioners are make up the P&H's Finance Committee.

They emerged after the closed-door session, and District 2 Supervisor Rocky Pullman moved to approve the port's 1998-99 budget at $6,360,000 without providing any salary increases. The motion was seconded by District 1 Supervisor Jeep Ladner, and the budget was approved unanimously.

Afterwards, Board of Supervisors President Philip Moran told the Echo that although the P&H is self-sufficient and generates its own funds, supervisors felt it would be unfair to give its workforce a raise when no other county employees are getting raises next year. Raises requested ranged an average of 3.7 percent for employees of the port, as well as Stennis International Airport.

In other business at Monday's recess meeting, supervisors:

- Approved 5-0, the petition by Hancock's Wastewater District 1 to also become a Water and Sewer District. No one came to be public hearing to protest.

- Consulting engineer Duke Levy also told supervisors that Colom Construction Company will begin extending sewerage lines to about 520 more homes in Shoreline Park next week. He said the Wastewater District plans to open bids Oct. 12 for the sewerage extension in Clermont Harbor, and is expected to hear by year's end if the county has received a $2 million grant to also provide water to Shoreline Park residents.

- Supervisors accepted the resignation of Alicia Griffith, secretary to the Hancock County Planning and Zoning Commission, effective Oct. 5.

Griffith said she intends to enroll in college full-time in Atlanta, and supervisors gave county building inspector Willie Gavney permission to go over resumes on file with Chancery Clerk Tim Kellar and hire someone part-time as soon as possible to begin training to replace Griffith.

- County attorney Gerald Gex was authorized by supervisors to send a registered letter to J. Gerard Construction Co., of Gretna, La., informing that firm that it must document reasons for withdrawing its bid to construct the Kiln Library. Otherwise, Gex said, or its insurer will be required to build the facility for the bid it submitted, $675,100, which is considerably less than the $1 million estimated by the consulting architect.

• Supervisors also learned that Jesco Construction Co. of Gulfport is ready to proceed on improvements to the Washington Street pier.

The $142,066 project will create a new jetty, realigned the existing jetty, and provide a new boat launch area, and the work is expected to be completed by Dec. 8.

- District 3 Supervisor Lisa Coward announced that she has received word from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in Mobile that funding has been approved for the third-phase of shoring up the seawall at Cedar Point, and construction should begin soon.

- Authorized Road Supt. Tommy Moran to hire part-time help at the minimum wage or to use prison inmates to cut grass and clean up roadways that are in the state-aid program. An inspection of those roads is scheduled at the end of the month.

- Welcomed aboard Jenell Tompkins to fill-in full-time for Comptroller Patty Greer, who will soon take maternity leave. Tompkins retired as Harrison County comptroller and has 28 years of government service.

McDermott keeps post, gets job transfer

BY ED LEPOMA

Leo A. "Chipper" McDermott can keep his post as Aldermen in Pass Christian and continue to work out of Hancock Bank in Gulfport.

But, he'll be on Hancock Bank of Louisiana's payroll because the city of Pass Christian does business with Hancock Bank of Mississippi.

McDermott, who began his first term as Aldermen-at-large in July of 1997, went to work for Hancock Bank of Mississippi in Gulfport a month later. While researching another issue last July, city attorney Malcolm Jones discovered that state law prohibits a city from doing business with a bank when a member of the governing body is employed by the bank.

That meant Pass Christian would have had to pull out $2.3 million it had on deposit with Hancock Bank in Mississippi and refinance four years left to go on a five-year $135,000 low-interest loan.

For McDermott, it could have meant quitting the bank or quitting his Alderman's post, but he said he would not give up his elected city position even if he had to resign his bank job.

Now, Mayor Billy McDonald says he thinks things have been resolved to the satisfaction of the State Ethics Commission. Under the new arrangement, McDermott will keep his job as collections supervisors and work out of Hancock's office in Gulfport, but he will be paid by Hancock Bank of Louisiana.

"I'm happy the problem has been resolved," said McDermott.

Diamondhead woman keeps postal job

BY ED LEPOMA

The woman in charge of the contract Post Office at Diamondhead will remain at her post following her arrest by Hancock County deputies last Wednesday on an embezzlement charge.

According to Matt Karl, criminal investigator with the Sheriff's Department, Theresa Ann Hiler, 51, of 7638 Fairway Drive, Diamondhead, was taken into custody and arrested Wednesday without incident on a warrant issued after a sworn affidavit made by the owner of Diamondhead Dry Cleaners and Laundromat located directly next door to the postal station.

Hiler worked for the laundromat before beating out others who bid on operating the contract postal station.

Karl said Hiler is charged with embezzling $65,000, was booked at Hancock County jail and released after she posted a $25,000 bond.

She is scheduled for a preliminary hearing in Justice Court on Oct. 6, he said.

The Echo contacted Bay St. Louis Postmaster Jimmy Moore, who said that Hiler will remain in control of the postal station. "You're innocent until proven guilty," said Moore. "I just know what you know — there may be more to this story."

Hiler took over operations of the Diamondhead contract station near the end of May.

Waveland man get 20 years for manslaughter

Defense attorney Stephen Maggio says he will ask for a reconsideration of a 20-year sentence handed out Monday to a Waveland man.

Circuit Court Judge Kosta Vlahos sentenced Scully Thomas, 48, to 20 years in prison after he pled guilty to manslaughter in the death of an infant cousin.

Thomas had been initially charged with felony child abuse, but that charge was upgraded to capital murder the day after Nikeya Washington died in a New Orleans hospital.

Thomas, who has a history of mental illness and drug abuse, was playing with the child on Nov. 20, 1996 at the Herlihy Street family home when he allegedly slammed the three-month-old child's head against a table. He was awaiting transfer to Memorial Hospital at Gulfport for treatment, according to family members.

Assistant District Attorney Larry Burgeois said the child's mother agreed to lowering the charge to manslaughter, for which Mississippi law allows punishment of two to 20 years in prison.

Maggio wants the court to consider a shorter sentence. He contends Thomas was off his medication for paranoid schizophrenia and was not taking illegal drugs when the incident occurred.

Control burning popular but risky

By Mark Jamieson
Hancock County Forester

(Second in a continuing series on prescribed burning)

"Why can't you come out and my burning today?" That's the question we're answering in this series of articles.

Often, the answer lies in smoke management regulations. Smoke problems can range from nuisance to life threatening. Any housewife who's had her freshly-hung laundry smoked up knows the meaning of nuisance smoke. If she catches the responsible forester, he quickly discovers the meaning of life-threatening smoke.

In a more serious vein, smoke can be life threatening if it settles on a highway and obscures visibility, especially if it mixes with fog. Such conditions have been responsible for many traffic deaths. And smoke can make susceptible people ill.

Agricultural and forestry burning is prohibited in Mississippi without a burning permit, which can be obtained from the Forestry Commission's nearest district office (telephone number 1-800-240-5161). Permits are given over the telephone; the caller doesn't have to fill out any forms.

In order for burning to be acceptable, two things must happen: the smoke must rise to an acceptable height, and there must be sufficient wind to dilute the smoke by mixing it with large volumes of air and moving it out of the immediate area.

The National Weather Service's daily smoke management forecast predicts the hours during the day (if any) when these conditions are likely to occur. The Forestry Commission issues burning permits in accordance with this forecast. The forecast is issued daily, for a 24-hour period only, so burning permits can only be issued for one day at a time.

No one can legally engage in agricultural or forestry burning without a permit — including Mississippi Forestry Commission crews. Atmospheric conditions might not allow the issuance of burning permits for several days at a time.

Even though burning conditions might look perfect to you (or to me), it doesn't matter. They've got to look right to the National Weather Bureau.

Horse management seminar is Sept. 22 in Gulfport

On Sept. 22, at the Harrison County Fairgrounds Horse Arena at 6 p.m., several agencies in south Mississippi will collaborate on a very informative seminar.

This will be sponsored by the Soil & Water Conservation Districts in Hancock, Harrison, Jackson and Stone counties.

Other sponsors are the Natural Resources Conservation Service, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service and the Farm Service Agency.

Master of ceremonies will be Sharon Woodfield. Mrs. Woodfield and her husband, Sen. Clyde Woodfield, are members of the Deep South Paso Fino Association and the National Paso Fino Association.

The Woodfields raise and show Paso Finos regionally, nationally and internationally.

Walkway — Bikepath stalled

ing now in place at the Garfield Ladner pier in Waveland and at the Washington Street boat ramp and pier in Bay St. Louis to begin construction of a boardwalk running on the south side of the seawall, and to begin the bikeway that will loop around Cedar Point.

Before the work begins, supervisors also endorsed Coward's motion to get a preliminary report from engineering consultant James Chiniche on exactly how much right-of-way the city has now or will need to install another lane along Beach Boulevard running from Bay St. Louis to Waveland. She said, if right-of-way acquisition is not too expensive, the county might be able to find funds to construct an additional lane on the north side of Beach Boulevard. This would free up the present south lane, which could be used for more beach parking, she said, and get the vehicles off the north side of the street.

District 2 Supervisor Rocky Pullman is on record against the entire project, and voted against Coward's motion to proceed with the county's portion.

On Tuesday night, the Bay City Council went into executive session to discuss the bikeway project, and Council emerged later, voting to file imminent domain proceedings against CSX to get control of the crossings.

Olsen was contacted Wednesday and charged that CSX is dredging up the same issue now that the city wants permission for three bikeway crossings of the track, including rail lines on Central leading to Alcan, and crossings at Second and St. Charles Steets.

"Unfortunately, CSX threw a stick in the spokes of the bikeway project," said Olsen.

Olsen said if Bay St. Louis can't get the necessary rail crossings on Central Avenue, it is pointless for Waveland to connect into the system by heading eastward on Central with the pathways. Another segment originally in Waveland's portion of the project would include a walkway and bikeway on Nicholson Avenue, connecting with Central.

Olsen said Bay officials are now looking at the possibility of constructing one portion of the overall project, which is away from the track altogether: a bikeway and walk on both sides of Dunbar Avenue between Highway 90 and North Beach Boulevard.

Under terms of the $951,115 grant, the county has pledged $175,380 as its match, Bay St. Louis, $125,000 and Waveland, $12,060.

Coastal — Cleanup campaign set

Local businesses and state and federal agencies have extended their services and resources to form the Mississippi Marine Debris Task Force and sponsor the coastal cleanup to encourage coast residents to get involved in keeping the Gulf Coast beautiful.

Cindy Woods, Department of Marine Resources Public Affairs officer is chairman of the Mississippi Marine Debris Task Force. Members from Hancock County are Sue Busby of Earth

Shores Foundation; and Betsy Ashman, Ellis C. Cuevas and Darlene Underwood of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

Ashman and Underwood are co-chairmen for the Hancock Chamber's cleanup area.

Underwood said, "We will have three registration areas on the beachfront from 7:30 a.m. to 9 a.m."

In Bay St. Louis, Beach Boulevard at Ulman Avenue; Waveland, Garfield Ladner Memorial Fishing Pier, and Clermont Harbor-Lakeshore, Buccaneer State Park.

The Extension Service's Homemakers Club members will man the registration area. Persons registering Saturday, as well as those pre-registered, will be able to pick up bags and data sheets for the litter collected at the registration areas.

Persons involved in the river, canals, and bayous will receive their supplies from Earth-shores Foundation, 226 Skyline, Garden Island Subdivision off Washington and Chapman Roads.

Ashman urged participants to please bring along a pair of work gloves.

There will be a limited supply of tote bags for cleanup participants.

For those participating in the cleanup, at Buccaneer State Park, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., or until they are all gone, hot dogs will be available, courtesy of Congressman Gene Taylor with Chris Lagarde as chef. The chamber's beautification committee will supply the buns and soft drinks.

Also following the cleanup effort, Outback Steak House in Gulfport will host a complementary lunch for all volunteers.

Hancock County's first "Clean Our Beach Day" was February 22, 1986. It was co-sponsored by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Beautification and Sand Beach Advisory Committees. John Scaife and Ellis C. Cuevas co-chaired the event, and Darlene Underwood, Hancock County home economist was in charge of the registration.

Businesses, industry, schools, clubs, families, individuals, organizations and groups are all urged to participate in the Saturday cleanup, Cuevas said.

For further information on the Hancock cleanup, or pre-registration, call the Chamber at 467-9048. For rivers, bayous and canals cleanup, contact Earth Shores Foundation, at 463-0343.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has agreed to place a large dump truck on Skyline in Garden Island Subdivision for the debris collected from the rivers, bayous and canals.

After the cleanup, Waste Management will collect the bags of litter from the mouths of Bayou Cadet to the Jourdan River along Beach Boulevard.

Marina — Rule & regs

much will it (the slips) cost," Sahuque told supervisors. Previously, he had given the Board a listing of rentals being charged at the Pass Christian, Long Beach and Biloxi harbors, and Sahuque suggested that Hancock County follow the charges being assessed in Pass Christian.

That would be a charge of $2 a foot with the average vessel measuring about 50 feet, and another $15 a month charge would be assessed each slip renter for water and electricity.

District 1 Supervisor Jeep Ladner suggested that a 60-foot docking space closest to Bayou Caddy be designated to allow for transient vessels to load and unload.

Other supervisors suggested that Sahuque keep a waiting list, and that slips be allotted on a first-come, first-served basis, with Hancock residents given first preference, followed by Mississippi boats, then out-of-state boats.

Although the marina area will be lighted, Sahuque also expressed some concern about security once the marina is open. Supervisors said they didn't plan 24-hour surveillance, but would ask the Sheriff to increase patrolling in the area.

Supervisors asked Sahuque to get together with county attorney Gerald Gex to draw up the proposed charges and regulations.

They also want the legislation to include stiff fines for discharging fuel in the canals or for littering.

Waveland — Adopts budget

Waveland's portion of the expenses is approximately $38,177, which works out to approximately 37 percent of the total fees paid by the three entities. According to 1997 city shelter records, Waveland had the fewest number of animals brought to the shelter, accounting for only 17.5 percent.

Kingston had questioned the city's contribution to the shelter at a previous budget meeting and expressed his dissatisfaction with the expenses paid by city.

Sheriff's 798 number still local

BY ELLIS C. CUEVAS

When the 228 area code was fully implemented Monday for most of Hancock County BellSouth telephone users, residents within the county with the Picayune Exchange with a 501 area code had to use long distance to reach the Hancock County Sheriff's Office, Chief Deputy Nathan Hoda said.

When the problem was noted on Tuesday, Hoda contacted Chancery Clerk Tim Kellar, who in turn contacted BellSouth's district office, and a systems change was incorporated to change the 798-8555 to the Sheriff's Office for Hancock residents with the Picayune Exchange as a local call.

Kellar said, "No one was aware of the potential problem, and BellSouth's officials were very understanding and made the necessary changes so county residents could reach the Sheriff's Office without having to make a long distance telephone call."

Persons residing in Hancock County with a 601 area code and 798 exchange can just dial 798-8555.

A dinner will be served following the workshop service.

Parents scheduled for laptop computer training at Hancock

BY B.R. HAWKINS

The Hancock County School Board approved a schedule of training sessions for high school students and their parents on the StudyPro laptop computers that will be given to each high school student beginning on Oct. 12.

The Board included the purchase of approximately 1,100 laptop computers for students and 60 units for teachers in funding derived from the May 1997, $20 million bond issue.

The computers are key components in the NETSchool program. NETSchool is unique in offering a schoolwide wireless network and powerful, light-weight notebook computer for every student at Hancock High School in the ninth through 12th grades.

The student has access to his or her own 'networked' computer. The StudyPro unit, billed as a supertough, kid-proofed notebook computer which can take most drops, spills and pokes, is linked to the school's main network server and to the Internet through a connection in the classroom that uses no wires, so students can move freely in the room. Outside school, the units can be used anywhere.

"The laptops will provide a certain amount of equity among the students," said Marie Donald, NETSchool Curriculum Coordinator.

Teachers can send class instructions, assignments, and other information to students, Donald offered as an example. Each computer has a phone connection that allows students access to the Internet at home or at school.

According to Donald,

NETSchools Academic Information System (AIS) is a powerful connection between the student and teacher. It provides all the tools teachers need to bring technology effectively into the school room. These tools are designed to help deliver compelling educational activities and safely take advantage of the Internet as an instructional resource.

Parents also benefit from the connection. The home-school relationship is strengthened by empowering family involvement. Parents can interactively see what their children learned in school. At home, parents can see what homework and class assignments have been made as well as write directly to the teachers. Teachers can deliver new assignments, offer quizzes, and address single student directly at home through e-mail.

The laptop units will provide students with controlled access to the Internet and practical experience in personal computer use.

Hancock School District parent training schedule

The Hancock County School District has scheduled dates and times for parent training on the StudyPro laptop computers.

In order for a student to receive a laptop, the parent or guardian must attend one of these mandatory training sessions. All sessions will be held in the Vo-Tech Center food service area (Hungry Hawks Cafe).

Forms will be sent home with students for parents to complete indicating which session they will attend.

For information, contact Marie Donald, NETSchools curriculum coordinator at 467-2251.

What a fish!

Bo Brennan, 4, captures first place in the Red Fish Division at the Labor Day Fishing Rodeo held in Waveland. Using 12-pound test, Bo fought the 23-3/4 Bull Red for one hour. The winning redfish hit a piece of crack crab at Ship Island. Bo is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen E. Brennan III of Bay St. Louis.

Mentors needed for students

Training sessions for the Bay-Waveland School District Mentoring program begin today, Sept. 17, at 11:45 a.m. at the Holiday Inn, Hwy. 90 in Waveland.

The program, explained Debbie Cox, district federal programs coordinator, aims at matching a caring adult role model with a student who has been identified 'at-risk'.

"The mission of the mentor program is to help children strengthen their skills, develop values, and realize their full potential," she said. "We are actively seeking adult volunteers who participate are dedicated to helping children and want to help a student succeed in their personal and academic lives."

Cox explained that mentors are asked to give at least one hour a week to a student who needs additional positive role models. The mentor works one on one with the student during the school day or after school. "Essentially, what happens is that the mentor becomes a friend who cares about how a child is performing in and out of school," she said.

Volunteers who are interested in participating in the program are encouraged to contact Cox or call the school district offices at 467-6621.

2B-THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1998

Bob Harmon Football Forecast

NFL Forecast
Sunday and Monday,
Sept. 20-21

*Arizona, 17—Philadelphia, 14
(Sunday) We'll stick with the two-year trend in this series, which is wins for the Cardinals and Eagles over each other on their respective home fields. Neither team's season looks too promising.

*Buffalo, 23—St. Louis 16
The Bills scored 85 points in their last two games with the Rams, big wins in 1992 and '95. This one will be closer, because recently St. Louis's defense has outplayed Buffalo's offense.

Denver, 26—Oakland, 22
After sweeping the Raiders in '95 and '96, the Broncos were 28-25 victims of Napoleon Kaufman's franchise-record 227 rushing yards in Oakland last year. In the rematch it was Denver 31-3.

Green Bay, 32—Cincinnati 13
Unless the Bengals come up with some uncharacteristically solid defensive play, they may not get within three TD's of the Packers. The last time they met, in '95, G.B. was a 24-10 winner.

*Jacksonville, 21—Baltimore, 19
Here's an underrated divisional rivalry: The Jaguars have won four in a row from the Ravens, but they have yet to beat them by more than three points. The '97 scores were 28-27 and 29-27.

*Kansas City, 28—San Diego, 14
Here's an odd divisional rivalry: There have been no splits, only sweeps, of the Chiefs-Chargers series for the past 10 seasons. Last year K.C. dominated at home, 31-3, and in S.D., 29-7.

*Minnesota, 20—Detroit 16
The Lions iced the Vikings in '97. Tommy Vardell had three TD's in a 38-15 win in Pontiac, then Scott Mitchell hit Herman Moore for the winning TD with three seconds left in Minneapolis.

*New England, 24—Tennessee, 12
Defense seems like the big difference here: The Patriots' is looking almost solid, while the Oilers' looks inept. The last time they met, five years ago, then-Houston was a 28-14 winner.

*N.Y. Jets, 19—Indianapolis, 13
After losing five in a row to the Colts, the Jets beat them in their first dustup of '97, 16-12. In the rematch, N.Y.'s defense let Marshall Faulk ramble for 133 yards and Indy won 22-14.

Pittsburgh, 25—Miami, 21
The Steelers have won three of their last four battles with the Dolphins, most recently 24-17 two years ago. Dan Marino will provide the dicey Pittsburgh secondary with a very big test.

*Tampa Bay, 35—Chicago, 14
In Both '96 and '97, the Bears beat the Buccaneers with defense in Chicago (13-10 and 13-7) while the Bucs won with offense in T.B. (34-19 and 31-15). We're more confident of the latter.

Washington, 14—Seattle, 13
Though the Redskins lead this series 5-3, the Seahawks have taken the last two, in '94 and '95. This game's almost a tossup, but Washington will rally after its Monday-nighter with S.F.

*N.Y. Giants, 22—Dallas, 16
(Monday) The Giants did their part to reduce the Cowboys to also-ran status last year, outlasting them 20-17 in N.Y., then handing them their 10th loss for the first time since '89 in Dallas, 20-7. (Open date: Atlanta, Carolina, New Orleans, San Francisco)

 denotes home team

College Highlights for Sept. 19

We seem to be predicting a lot of home-team winners this week, but none with more trepidation than Tennessee, which hosts Florida. The Gators have dominated the Volunteers in recent seasons, but we think it's finally Tennessee's turn to eke out a win.

A year ago in Gainesville, Fla., No. 3 Florida advanced to No. 1 by beating the fourth-ranked Vols for the fifth straight year (and QB Peyton Manning for the fourth), 33-20, as Gators junior wide-out Jacques Green had eight catches for 185 yards and senior Fred Taylor ran for 131 yards in the second half.

Though Manning threw for 353 yards, the Florida defense was in his face all day, intercepting him twice and sacking him twice. The way we see it, Manning was something of a jinx in this matchup. So we like Tennessee by one, in a huge upset.

LSU and Auburn should have another tight battle of the Tigers in Auburn, Ala. Once again, only the three or four points we toss the home team makes Auburn the pick. In '97, then-12th-ranked Auburn upset No. 10 LSU 31-28 when Auburn tailback Rusty Williams scored on a one-yard TD dive with 30 seconds left in the game.

Auburn QB Dameyune Craig threw for 342 yards and two TD's, while LSU's Cecil Collins ran for 232 yards. "It wasn't enough," Collins said afterward. LSU won't have quite enough this Saturday, either.

In another potential classic in the South, we're going with Southern Mississippi (guess why?) over Texas A&M. The Golden Eagles and Aggies haven't met since '94, when A&M churned out 246 yards on the ground — while holding Southern Miss to just 44 — in a 41-17 thrashing.

This time around, the Eagles will win for the first time ever against the Aggies. And Miami-Virginia Tech may not reverberate through the Top 20 the way it once did, but it'll still be an almost-too-close-to-call thriller. The Hurricanes will end a three-game losing streak against the Hokies.

In the West, the North Carolina Tar Heels should be challenged by the Stanford Cardinal, whom they beat by only 11 points last year. On Thursday night, Colorado State will exact some revenge on Air Force for its 24-0 drubbing at the hands of the Falcons in '97.

In Pittsburgh, meanwhile, the Panthers will put up a good — but losing — fight against visiting Penn State. Last year, Nittany Lions QB Mike McQueary passed for a school-record 366 yards in Penn State's 34-17 win over Pittsburgh. McQueary's gone, but the Panthers still aren't at the Lions' level.

Texas A&M Aggies to hold 'Midnight
Yell Practice'

The "Aggies" of Texas A&M University (current and former students) are coming to the Mississippi Gulf Coast before heading to Hattiesburg to meet the University of Southern Mississippi's Golden Eagles.

The football game is scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 19 at USM's M. M. Roberts Stadium.

As is their tradition before a game, a 'Midnight Yell Practice' will be held Friday night, Sept. 18, on the west side of the Grand Casino Gulfport Hotel at the Preservation Oaks Park.

The Aggies are under the direction of R. C. Slocum, who is in his 10th season as head coach. Texas A&M first played Southern Miss in 1959 and defeated USM 7-3. The Aggies are ranked No. 17 AP and No. 18 USA Today/ESPN.

The Golden Eagles are led by Jeff Bower (43-36-1), who is in his ninth year as head coach. After a season opening loss at nationally ranked Penn State (34-6), the Golden Eagles enjoyed an off week before facing TAMU on the 19th. Last year, the Golden Eagles were 9-3, including a 41-7 victory over Pitt in the Liberty Bowl.

Bearcats take a bite out of Rocks with 35-12 win

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The St. Stanislaus/Long Beach football game was postponed from Friday night to Saturday night due to torrential rainfall. Then, on Saturday it was postponed again until Monday night.

A "W" in the win column was also postponed for the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws as they dropped the game 35-12 to the Bearcats.

The Rocks started the game off on offense and received a fine return on the kickoff from Roger Ridgeway. However, the Rocks stalled on offense and had to punt to the Bearcats.

Long Beach wasted no time going to their vaunted passing attack led by Mickey d'Angelo. He connected with Amos Slaughter two consecutive times for gains of nine and eight yards, respectively.

Brandon Griffin churned up the yardage on the ground to add to the Bearcat offensive attack. Griffin maintained moderate gains throughout the 14-play drive.

The Bearcat possession ended in a 17 yard touchdown reception by Slaughter from d'Angelo with 3:12 to go in the first quarter. The PAT was good making the score 7-0.

SSC was not able to generate any offense so they turned the ball over to the Bearcats.

Two plays later, linebacker Cameron Byrne forced a Bearcat fumble and recovered the ball on the Long Beach 36 yardline.

After a gain of 11 yards via air mail from SSC quarterback Jason Santiago to Patrick Martinez, the Rocks attempted a 35 yard field goal. SSC missed wide left leaving the score at 7-0.

The Bearcats didn't waste any time moving the ball on their next possession. Griffin found a seam in the Rock defense and ran for 43 yards and a first down before Aaron Dunklin brought him down.

The stingy Rock defense led by Byrne, Michael Dauro, and Tom Brennan put a halt to the drive by Long Beach. The Bearcats turned the ball over on downs at the Rock 24 yardline.

The Rock offense still had problems getting things started and they had to punt away to the Bearcats.

The SSC defense made a great stand against the Bearcats on the next possession. Joe Carambat led the defensive charge with two tackles.

The Bearcats had to punt to the Rocks and they pinned SSC at their own four yardline.

SSC was not able to move the football. The two teams traded possessions once again as the first half came to a close.

Griffin took the ensuing kickoff 95 yards for a Bearcat score with 11:43 left in the third half.

The SSC offense went three and out on the next possession with three straight incompletions.

d'Angelo gained Long Beach a first down on the next possession; however, the Bearcats could not capitalize and had to punt away.

After one incomplete pass from Santiago, sophomore running back Kris Cannon broke free around the end and sprinted 59 yards to paydirt with 1:15 left to play in the third quarter. The PAT by Charles Raymond hit the uprights and bounced wide left and no good. The score remained 14-6.

The Rocks got the ball back after the defense held d'Angelo in check for the next possession.

But, on the second play of the drive the Rocks fumble a completed pass and the Bearcats capitalized on the mistake.

d'Angelo once again hit Slaughter for a touchdown. This time it was for 18 yards at the 11:37 mark of the fourth quarter.

The PAT was good making the score 21-6.

The Rocks mounted a nine play drive that was moving behind the running of Santiago and Cannon. However, the drive was halted because of the Rocks being thrown for losses on two consecutive plays.

Long Beach took over on downs at their own 44 yardline. They were stopped off 17 yards and a Bearcat first down on the first play from scrimmage.

The last play of the drive went to DeAndre Williams who scored on a 17 yard pass from d'Angelo with 6:06 left in the ballgame. The PAT was good making the score 28-6.

The Rocks got back to the endzone on their next possession. Santiago went to the air and connected with his tight end Stephen Peterman for a gain of 17 yards, followed by Brandon Lewis for a gain of six yards.

On the fifth play of the drive, Santiago stood in the shotgun formation when the snap went over his head. He scrambled with the ball looking for an open receiver. He found Ridgeway 24 yards later for a score. The two-point conversion attempt by the Rocks was no good and left the score 28-12.

The Bearcats looked poised to run out the clock when a Bearcat runner busted through the middle of the defense and scored from 35 yards out with 1:58 left to go in the game.

The Pat attempt was good making the final score 35-12.

SSC head coach Dave Kenson commented, "Our defense played well tonight. Our offense was just beat by their defense. We made some mistakes in the kicking game, also."

"Cameron Byrne, Michael Dauro, and Tom Brennan played well along with the rest of our defensive front."

The Rocks will have a short week of practice to prepare for a visit to Vancleave on Friday night.

The Bay High Tigers defeated the Vancleave Bulldogs last Friday by the score of 14-12. With the loss the Rocks fall to 1-2 on the season.

See you at the game!

Rocks down Indians in first swim meet of the year

BY JOSEPH W. GEX II

The St. Stanislaus and Our Lady Academy swim teams opened their season on Thursday, September 10, at the Biloxi Natatorium against the Biloxi High Indians.

The Rocks defeated the Indians by the score of 96-67 while OLA fell to the four-time defending state champion Lady Indians by the score of 135-42.

SSC OLA coach Joe Gex stated, "I thought both the girls and the boys swam well tonight. This was the first meet of the year and we now see what we have to work with. Both teams have a lot of room for improvement."

I saw some good performances from our swimmers. The boys broke four school records while the girls broke five. It was a very positive night."

The Rocks got off on the right track by winning the 200 medley relay in 1:59.84. The team consisted of Matt Finnila, Robin Herndon, Jamie Higgins, and Paul David.

Finnila placed second in the 200 yard freestyle with a time of 2:29.91.

Higgins and Andrew Nestor placed first and second, respectively, in the 200 individual medley. Higgins' winning time was a new school record of 2:15.82, followed by Nestor with a 2:43.26.

Jeffrey Fine took top honors for the Rocks in the 100 yard butterfly with a time of 1:23.77.

The Rocks swept the top three places in the 100 yard freestyle with David, Billy Bourgeois, and Donald Kimberlin placing respectively. David's winning time was a new school record of 59.36. He is the first SSC swimmer to break the one minute barrier in that race.

Bourgeois took runner-up honors with a time of 1:01.90, followed by Kimberlin with a 1:07.40.

Robin Herndon placed second in the 500 yard freestyle for the Rocks with a time of 6:44.79.

The 200 yard freestyle relay team of Kimberlin, Patrick Clark, Bourgeois, and David placed first with a time of 1:50.85.

Higgins won the 100 yard backstroke for SSC with a time of 1:14.82.

Herndon broke the school record in the 100 yard breaststroke with his winning time of 1:12.76.

The 400 yard freestyle relay team of Herndon, Nestor, David, and Higgins took top honors and set a new school record with a time of 4:02.64.

The 200 medley relay team of Ashley Alford, Camille Covington, Kim Frazier, and Alyssa Jung set a new school record of 2:26.34 while placing third.

The 200 freestyle saw Christine Rivera set a new school record with a time of 2:47.45 and placed fourth.

Kim Frazier set the new mark in the 200 yard individual medley with a time of 2:58.71 and placed third.

Katy Kennedy placed fourth in the 500 yard freestyle with a new school record time of 8:00.20.

The 400 yard freestyle relay team of Alford, Covington, Ashley Rutherford, and Elizabeth Wahl set a new school record with a time of 5:07.48 and placed fourth.

The next swim meet of the season will be held at the St. Stanislaus Pool on Wednesday, September 16 at 5:30pm.

Local man named starter for rugby club

Matt Capo of Waveland has been named the starting scrum-half for the Battleship Rugby Football Club of Mobile, Ala. Capo retired from competitive play in November of 1997, but an injury to the incumbent scrum-half prompted Battleship to seek the return of his services.

Capo will be playing his 16th year and his 7th with Battleship. He has been a member of numerous all-star and select side teams and has toured Europe twice as a player. His previous teams were the Elgin, Illinois River Rats, the Pittsburgh Black & Gold, and he played collegiately at Iowa State University.

As a member of Battleship, he has been a starter since arriving in 1991 and has been an integral part of their success. The club has qualified for the 64 team national playoffs for each of the last 10 years, and won the National Championship in 1992.

Battleship is a member of the Deep South Rugby Conference along with Birmingham, Jackson, New Orleans, Montgomery, Hattiesburg, Pensacola, and Okaloosa, Fla. Nationally there are 435 men's clubs and the sport is played at 408 colleges and universities.

"I'm looking forward to my first game back," says Capo, "but dreading the day after that first game." Battleship opens with a non-conference game at home against Baton Rouge on Sept. 19 at 1 p.m. Games are played at Battleship Park in Mobile.

Capo is a physical therapist and is the clinic director for Associated Rehabilitation Services/Rehabilitation Agency of Mississippi (ARS/RAM) Physical Therapy Clinic of Bay St. Louis.

History Attic

Ms. Suffern's and Ms. Merrigan's fourth grade class at Bay Catholic enjoy the History Attic exhibit at Lynn Meadows Discovery Center.

A taste of space at discovery center

Children enjoyed some "far-out" fun while they learned about life as an astronaut at the Lynn Meadows Discovery Center.

"Children always ask the most interesting questions about space," says Ken Albright, exhibit specialist with Stennis Space Center. "The concept of space travel is new to them and they bring a fresh, unique viewpoint to my presentations."

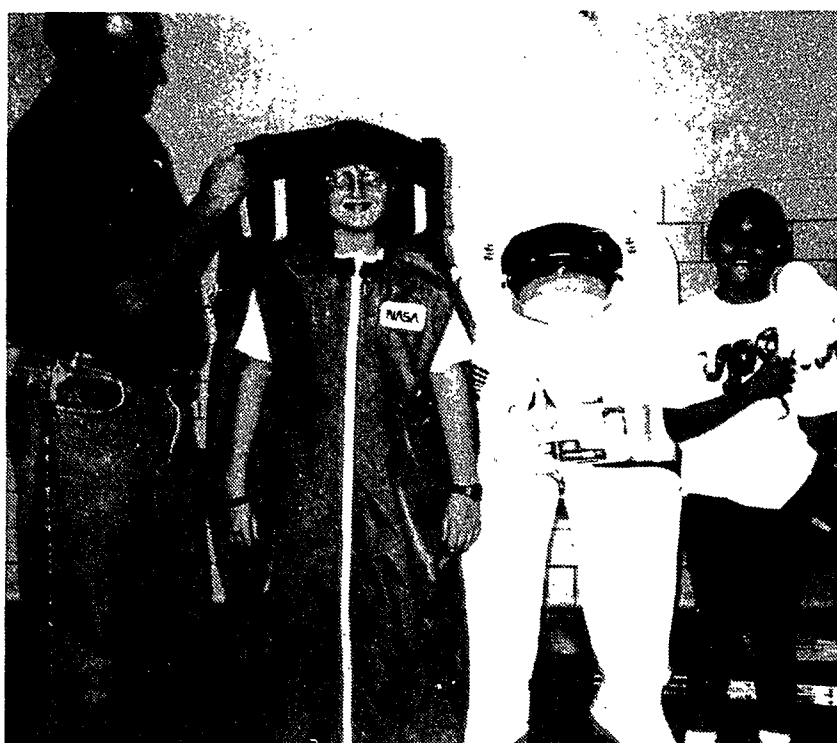

This activity is one of a variety that the Discovery Center schedules each month. Albright brought a space suit, a space sleeping bag, freeze dried food and a display model of a NASA shuttle for children to see.

Two participants, Caroline Haas, 10, and friend Katie Yanez, 10, both of Bay St. Louis, plan to attend Space Camp in Florida during Mardi Gras. After the presentation, Yanez admitted, "How complicated it is to be an astronaut."

"You definitely need to know how to move around and float in space," says Haas.

The Lynn Meadows Discovery Center is a hands-on children's museum for young people, their families and schools, providing exhibits and programs designed to teach through experiences while encouraging creativity.

The Discovery Center features six indoor exhibits, a museum store, science lab and artist studio. Outdoor exhibits include a treehouse village, a Navy submersible, an organic garden and a performing pavilion.

Located on six acres in an old elementary school, the Discovery Center is in Gulfport at 246 Dolan Ave. between Teagarden and Courthouse Road.

Projects selected for commercial use of remote sensing data

The Commercial Remote Sensing Program office at NASA's Stennis Space Center has selected 10 projects that could lead to new commercial uses of advanced sensors.

The projects are being developed through the Earth Observations Commercial Applications Program-Hyperspectral (EOCAP-Hyperspectral).

The program is designed to increase the use of NASA technology for gathering and analyzing information about the Earth through sensors mounted on aircraft or satellites. EOCAP-Hyperspectral will define the technology gaps that prohibit or impede the use of hyperspectral data and recommend solutions for filling those gaps.

"This is the type of partnership between NASA and value-added industry that the NASA Earth Science program is forging. We want to emphasize investments of NASA sponsored technologies to demonstrate benefits of our program towards solving practical societal problems while promoting a healthy commercial remote sensing industry in the U.S.," said Dr. Ghassem Asrar, associate administrator for Earth Sciences, NASA Headquarters, Washington, D.C.

(EOCAP-Hyperspectral is managed by the Commercial Remote Sensing program office at Stennis. Its role in commercial activities is to provide financial and technical support to companies for two to three years in areas of remote sensing activities where there is substantial market risk in matching science and technology with commercial demand.

The projects support technical, market and business innovation to develop new products or services that serve emerging domestic and international markets. Selected proposals, in addition to high technical competence, typically exhibit the following traits: strong business and marketing plans; product advisory boards to guide the product and/or service development; and substantial financial commitments to the project by the companies.

The recipients of the 1998 EOCAP-Hyperspectral project awards are:

- Eastman Kodak - Rochester, N.Y.
- United States Department of Agriculture - Beltsville, Md.
- Yellowstone Ecosystem Studies - Bozeman, Mont.
- Applied Analysis - Billerica, Mass.
- Cal State-Monterey Bay - Seaside, Calif.
- Boeing Information, Space & Defense Systems - Seattle, Wash.
- GDE Systems, Inc. - San Diego, Calif.
- MTL Systems, Inc. - Beavercreek, Ohio
- Opto Knowledge Systems, Inc. (OKSI) - Torrance, Calif.
- Spectral International - Arvada, Colo.

The overall focus of the program is to expand the acceptance and use of remote sensing technology in the marketplace. Historically, the program has emphasized product development from a technical perspective.

The program's new direction is to ally market knowledge with technical capability to guide product development based on customers' needs.

EOCAP responds to known buyer needs by collaborating with commercial firms to develop enhanced geographic information products, incorporating advanced remote sensing and associated technologies.

The program is sponsored by NASA's Earth Science enterprise which studies the total Earth system and demonstrates the benefits of new technologies and scientific knowledge through practical applications.

IMS oceanographer tracks ocean processes through trace elements

Institute of Marine Sciences chemical oceanographer Alan M. Shiller is part of an international team of scientists whose research results on ocean contaminants are paving the way for new understanding of global climate.

The professor in the Institute's Department of Marine Science — part of the University of Southern Mississippi — edited a recent special issue of the scientific journal Marine Chemistry that reported on the team's results from a baseline study of contaminants in the Atlantic ocean in 1993.

"The geochemical information is a useful tool for helping us understand key oceanic processes, including the circulation of the water," Shiller said. "For example, investigators on the survey cruise now understand the circulation in the northern North Atlantic in greater detail."

"While this might seem like an obscure part of the ocean for a Mississippian to be interested in, it's actually a key region for the development of major water masses that affect global climate."

The baseline study is an important means of comparison. "What we have learned can be used in the future to gauge whether and how quickly human activities are affecting the concentrations of pollutants in the ocean," he said.

Shiller's focus for the survey, also reported in the special issue, was the trace element gallium. Gallium is geochemically similar to aluminum, a major component of rocks, he explained.

"Following gallium through the environment can be used to help test our understanding of the processes affecting aluminum," Shiller said.

The survey is an effort of the Intergovernmental Oceanographic Commission's (IOC) committee on the Global Investigation of Pollution in the Marine Environment founded in 1960 to conduct large-scale scientific investigations of the planet's oceans. IOC is part of UNESCO, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization.

Shiller and other cruise participants are mapping strategy for a similar survey in the Pacific. In the meantime Shiller has a supply of water samples that his graduate students brought back from a 1996 IOC survey from Uruguay to Barbados.

"They did some analysis on board ship, and working with the samples they brought back will be our next project," Shiller said. "That (1996) cruise completes the survey of the Atlantic."

The Institute is USM's provider of marine-related research, education and public service. Institute campuses on the Mississippi Gulf Coast include Stennis Space Center, Gulf Coast Research Laboratory and the J. L. Scott Marine Education Center and Aquarium.

Molly Hatchet

Molly Hatchet group scheduled at Casino Magic

In the early 1970's a new form of music was emerging in the South. A mixture of blues, country, gospel and the English invasion of rock and roll that later was to be coined the phrase "Southern Rock."

The music was filled with style and emotion. Forefront bands included the Allman Brothers, Lynard Skynyrd and a band from Jacksonville, Fla., called "Molly Hatchet."

Fans can see the rockers, Molly Hatchet, at Casino Magic Bay St. Louis Sunday, Sept. 20 at 8 p.m. in the casino's Magic Entertainment Complex.

Their self-titled debut album was released on Epic Records in 1978 and reached multi-platinum status as the band established its reputation of working hard, playing tough and living fast through intense touring with such bands as Aerosmith and Bob Seger.

Long-time member Bobby Ingram (lead guitar), Phil McCormack (lead vocals), John Galvin (keyboards), Bryan Bassett (lead guitar), Andy McKinney (bass), Mac Crawford (drums), make up the current lineup.

From the release of Devil's Canyon and the world-wide touring, the band has continued performing the classic hits such as "Flirtin' with Disaster," "Gator Country," "Whiskey Man" and "Dreams I'll Never See."

In 1979, "Flirtin' with Disaster" was released and history was in the making. The band continued touring on the road with an average of 250 live shows per year and like the first album is also achieved multi-platinum status.

Lead singer Danny Joe Brown left the band in 1980 and contacted Bobby Ingram, a well-known southern guitarist and friend, who gave Brown his first singing gig in 1975 with a Jacksonville based band called "Rum Creek."

Brown and Ingram then put together with key boardist John Galvin the Danny Joe Brown Band and continued touring until 1982. During this time, "Beatin' the Odds" (1980) and "Take No Prisoners" (1981) was released with singer Jimmy Farrar.

Brown returned to record "No Guts... No Glory" (1983), "The Deed is Done" (1984) and "Double Trouble Live" (1985).

In 1985, Bobby Ingram, with his songwriting and live performance abilities came into the band to replace Hlubek. The band continued to tour over 200 dates a year and in 1989 record "Lightning Strikes Twice" for Capital Records.

The 1998 release of "Silent Reign of Heroes" on CMC International Records is kept in the same spirit and tradition as the past with new hit songs "Mississippi Moon Dog," "Saddle Tramp," "Miss Saturday Night," and the title track, "Silent Reign of Heroes."

The band is currently on an extensive 18-months tour in support of the new release and is still, after two decades of hard work, playing fast and living a little easier.

Tickets are on sale at Ticketmaster outlets and may be purchased in person at the Casino Magic Gift Shops. Ticket prices are $10, $12 and $15.

New musical to open at Biloxi Grand Theatre

Grand Casino Biloxi has announced the opening of its latest show, "New York, New York." Impersonations, dazzling dance numbers and swinging songs abound as four sailors spend a 24-hour pass in New York. The musical opens 8 p.m. Sept. 28 at the Biloxi Grand Theatre.

Greg Thompson's New York, New York will keep you laughing with non-stop fun from Broadway to the Bowery. It is a song-packed, fun filled production, complete with a live band, splashy sets, dazzling costumes and showgirls.

Taking its cue from the Frank Sinatra/Gene Kelly World War II musicals, New York, New York follows the four buddies from the naval shipyard to Broadway and beyond.

Along the way they manage to audition for a Broadway show, hang out in Greenwich Village, cruise the nightclubs in the Latin Quarter, cause a riot in the Times Square show, and spend some time in the Brooklyn city jail.

Some song highlights include "New York, New York," "East-side, Westside," "Nothing Like a Dame," "If They Could See Me Now," "Copacabana," "One For The Road," "Ain't Misbehavin'," and "Blues in the Night."

Show times are 3 p.m. Sunday, Tuesday and Wednesday, 8 p.m. Friday-Wednesday, and 10:30 p.m. on Friday and Saturday.

Ticket price is $9.95 for all shows. Tickets are available at the Biloxi Grand theatre box office (1-800-WIN-2-WIN) or at all TicketMaster outlets.
